And he to me: “The anguish of the souls below us paints my face with pity you mistake for fear.”

_Inferno IV, 19-21_ and the breeze that carries traffic sounds across a vacant tractorscarred terrain ... working from the inside out, the concrete pylons of an over-pass reiterate the vantage point of a house with gray-blue siding ... nearly rhy-thmical murmur of the pines and far-heard (distant) sound ... this is how it starts ... mountain peak above the vale, and soft light bathes the still-bare walls and one corner of a red brick mantle ... the woman has her left arm raised to shoulder level and bent at the elbow ... this, together with the smile that implies a kind of welcoming ... someone has written the word recession on her body ... the stranger carefully contents uh ... ventured to approach the camp ... shackles at work, measuring ... but showed me knots across her shoulder where they whipped her ... calling her relatives and friends about her, she told them ... the creek, meaning to strike a road from little lost town—do you want to see ... juliet won't you ... but soon discovered—crawled out the next day ... earth, and were borrowed from heaven ... the sun was low ... the besieged warrior—check match file ... clocks were put up onto shelves ... it was impossible (the slave house) ... submission again possessed me, and seeing that this would be so ... is it the memorandum that you placed on a parcel of flesh ... to them a new life was just beginning and—and look ... should have warned him that amid uh ... apt to give credence to many stories which on the face of them appear ... of wooded hills or fern-clad cool retreats the forest ... what detail, positions assigned and a signal agreed upon ... seeing that weapons ... the small bones of their ankles ... but this form of encounter, despite ... listed that he was employed man ... couldn't get no pension ... some weeks see said the judge a hair of the dog that bit him ... camp mornings ... skiff come and broke right to me you reckon ... was unconscious she didn't ... longer than we have ... july 12, 1838 will make forty-nine years ... bars and belaying pins, and gave them orders ... two were to watch her ... the life of childhood it is a very graceful stream with wilder ... of such a union was the most beautiful woman of her time ... so by july ... chattel, but the majority of them were bona fide home-seekers ... lined up, found dead in newark (who) ... how the wheat stood like vast billows of gold under rays ... the speaker an old man thus ... over the water pitcher and also leaned against the wall no nobody ... had been left incautiously open, they stepped down from the wall ... nursed by some cattle raisers in kansas and texas, in some remote ... freezing, his food was thistle roots boiled in the springs one night ... rest a moment on the old fence, or to satisfy their curiosity ... her ghost looked up ... into the air and flew across the stream ... breaking silence ... to the volcano, to pele's pit ... and could not stop much as you wanted ... the ground, and a band of the official watch was in the act ... are superstitiously inclined are awed at the rumblings ... hits his upper crust, and says that it's like his blamed ... got scared to go out with him ... hated that business but directly it ... been on the ridge where we could see the cat's head ... the natural wealth and beauty of this historic region ... the overseer, his appearance was not prepossessing ... nor though he was alone in shadow, trying to reach the goal before they saw him ... a hillock which stood back of the village while they were talking ... scarce noting the fresh green of bush and tree, or the ferns flock ... three miles away ... parataxis ... imagine a city built on seven hundred hills ... women, another farmer who frequently sat up ... a plentiful supply of fish these men were quite poor in worldly terms ... whoever passes through the green mountains and arrives at altiplano ... squirrel can, he began ... babies, flowers and fruits slashed in every direction a speculation as to our charter ... took up his rifle and turned to a crack in the wall, filled with plush ... always feel that we owe you a debt of the deepest gratitude, and so will ... rude shelter of pine and cedar by myriads of lakes and countless ponds ... a study of boughs ... become entangled in a variety of other emotions, not all propitious ... go to hell snarled passing poses its rolling, softly-contoured ... used other tests here and valued this small tree for its beauty ... is told to do and do it right now and you'll keep outen trouble ... its freight of squalid misery ... high the red squirrel little wretch that looking ... pavement broken and fallen in pieces over ... to eat young birds ... was too sound asleep to hear it ... poor old man was told that he felt ... benevolent and open-sleeved out my wife died what ... my two sons left just before the world war they never ... the cowboy dropped stirrup from saddle horn and came forward ... of which is unknown, landscape with the silver wakes left by tunnels of blue there ... came to these shores a number of people ... their summits are often shrouded in clouds you see a grandeur ... his name the old man fell backward into this ... swept aside in graceful curve, the bright eyes haze ... cars go up and down them in a process of mourning looking straight ahead ... that bad at the beginning of an era ... and instruct the people with all the knowledge thereof in conformity ... it is good to be here in this section of country (not alone) ... was fastened, and marks a gendered space with its retinue her name ... shoulders and hips the widest part of a stream ... when, by building just above or below, a person ... interviewed et allon des d’arc (ark) ... and up-raised eyes of those of fuller maturity ... the historical and discursive investments sealed by the practice moist ... which is reached by ferry across the delaware from philadelphia ... it is true exclaimed the warriors ... out of it ... as we came up to the camp we found nothing but women and ...
